directions

1. in a medium saucepan, combine quinoa, salt, saffron, and ¾ cup water. bring to a boil, reduce the heat to simmer, cover, and cook until tender, about 12 minutes. Fluff with a fork, then spread out on a plate to cool.
2. cut off the top and bottom of both oranges so they stand upright on a cutting board. use a sharp knife to cut off the peel and white pith, following the curve of the fruit to expose the orange flesh. holding the oranges over a bowl to catch any juices, cut on either side of each of the white pith divisions running up and down the fruit to release the orange segments.
3. in a large bowl toss together cooled quinoa, orange segments and juice, greens, mint, cilantro, dill, green onion, pomegranate seeds, and dressing. top with pistachios and feta.
